The designation of 2012 as International Year of Co-operatives by the United Nations gives the Co-operative Movement a once in a millenium opportunity to demonstrate to everyone the different way of doing business that is offered by co-operatives.

This weekend school is designed to bring delegates up to date, at the start of the year, with what is going on locally, nationally and internationally in - our Party, our businesses and throughout the movement to spread the word and inspire people to become involved.

It also gives us all the opportunity to pledge what we will do to promote, inspire and inform, politically, socially and economically in this, "OUR" year.
